

Craig Is Head of Legion

Demand For Cut Far as Possible on Immigration at Present Time

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 1.—(P)—The American Legion today elected George N. Craig, 40-year-old Brazil, Ind., attorney as National Commander. He is the first veteran of World War II ever named to the post.

Craig reached the needed majority of 1,673 votes when Texas gave him 104 of its 106 votes. He succeeds retiring Commander Perry Brown of Beaumont, Tex.

James Green, 33, Omaha, Neb., was a close second with two other candidates—Earle Cocke, Jr., Dawson, Ga., and Donald Wilson, Clarksburg, W. Va.—mustering only a few scattered votes.

A total of 3,344 delegates balloted.

The Legion's 31st national convention demanded today that the United States "curtail as far as possible any further immigration" at this time.

The Legion view was expressed in a resolution adopted shortly before the legionnaires were to begin balloting to choose a new national commander, major item at the final session of the four-day convention.

The federal government should "strictly adhere to the existing laws and quotas allowing immigration to the United States," the resolution said.

"Particularly, the U. S. should adhere to the laws now in force applying to displaced persons rather than place additional burden on the people of America."

The Legion's Americanism committee also won convention backing of a resolution under which area seminars would be set up at Birmingham, Ala., Indianapolis, Ind., New York and San Francisco to study Russian fifth column activities.

Swear to Bear Arms

Another provision asked that applicants for U. S. citizenship be required to swear to bear arms for the U. S. whenever the necessity arises.

The Legion convention approved a resolution backing a self-help plan "based on the initiative of the people in their own communities without reliance of the federal government in solving

Break Comes in Polio Epidemic

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1.—(P)—The approach of autumn has brought the first break in the nation's polio epidemic, the public health service said today.

For the first time since last March, the agency said, the count of new cases has declined.

It dropped from 3,422 for the week ending August 20 to 3,214 for the week ending August 27. In the corresponding week a year ago the total was 1,412.

Last week the health service said the 22-week rise in the number of poliomyelitis cases appeared to be leveling off. It now says last week's 3,422 total may be the year's peak.

The total number of cases reported in the nation for the year, through August 27, is 20,513, compared with 11,155 for the same period last year.

Ten states reported more than 100 new cases last week. They were New York, 573; Michigan, 282; Illinois, 276; Massachusetts, 194; Minnesota, 183; Ohio, 123; New Jersey, 122; Missouri, 116; Iowa, 102; and California, 101.

The weekly report is based on telegraphic information from state health departments.

Four Rescued From Sunken Yawl

Mrs. Dorothy Johnson is lifted aboard a lifeboat from the tanker L. S. Wescott after she and her husband, Dr. Orien Johnson, and two other men clung to the mast (right) of their sunken yawl for 29 hours in Lake Huron's Saginaw bay. They were taken aboard a Coast Guard cutter and rushed to a Bay City, Mich., hospital. The yawl was sunk by a large wave. The man hanging over the side of the lifeboat is unidentified. V. Brown in Kiwanis Talk

Area Supervisor On Employment Explains Activities

Three primary functions of the Division of Employment Security were explained by Virgil Brown, area supervisor, in a talk before the Sedalia Kiwanis club Thursday noon in Bothwell Hotel.

The division is designed to bring together jobs and men, the speaker said. The primary functions consist of employment service, administration of unemployment compensation, and administration of the service men's readjustment act. He explained the process of giving aptitude tests and occupational counseling, analysis of employment trends and many other activities of the division.

On Incline Here
Mr. Brown commented on the national unemployment trend compared to the reverse situation in Sedalia. Here employment has been in the incline despite factory and shop layoffs. Indications are that this situation has been a favorable one for the Sedalia because men layed off in industry have been absorbed in the fields of agriculture and construction.

Clinton Muller was program chairman.

Jack Cunningham and T. H. Yount explained activities of the Sedalia Athletic Association during the baseball season just closed and plans for the first Amateur Golf Tournament September 19, and prospects for sponsoring football and Golden Gloves events later.

E. W. McClammer, of the Vitaglas company, became a new member of the club, introduced by Kennie Miller and inducted by the Rev. H. U. Campbell.

President Bert Hathaway announced there would be a meeting of the board of directors and committee chairmen at Dan's Restaurant Friday noon.

Guests were: Jack Allgaier, with his father A. B. Allgaier; Joe Rosenthal, Kansas City; Kiwanian Myron Lundquist, Mexico; A. S. Mathis, Tulsa, with Clyde Heynen and E. R. Peterson, Wichita, Kas., with Ray Hunt.

Airborne Unit Through Its Paces

FT. LEONARD WOOD, Mo., Sept. 1.—(P)—National Guardsmen, attending a two-week encampment here, watched an airborne unit go through its paces yesterday.

An aerial demonstration of military transportation tactics was staged by the Fifth Army Airborne unit from Fort Sheridan, Ill. Included on the program, presented at Vichy airport, was a mass parachute jump, and a training flight for each of the trainees.

Yesterday's program was marred with the critical injury of Lieut. George Kunz, a member of the airborne unit. Kunz was injured when the jeep in which he was riding to the airport overturned. Kunz, a Chicago resident, was reported in grave condition in a Waynesville hospital.

Fined in St. Louis for Driving Unshod Horse

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 1.—(P)—It's against the law to drive unshod horses on the streets of St. Louis.

Fred W. Hilmer, 80, who lives near Ferguson, learned that yesterday. He was fined $10 on complaint of an official of the Humane Society, who charged cruelty to animals.

Bees Buzz Busily In Belshe Home

TRENTON, Mo., Sept. 1.—(P)—The Vivian Belshe home near here is a beehive of activity.

While everyone else was battling the heat through the past five summers the Belshes had another problem—bees.

There are three swarms of buzzing bees that have set up housekeeping and honey-making operations in combs located between the sidings and weatherboarding of the frame house.

Once each year the bees swarm and on that day, the Belshe family closes all windows and doors and remains indoors to keep out of the path of the insects.

To date the Belshes have been unable to find anyone who will take the bees and their factory.

Officials Forced Back on Flight

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 1.—(P)—Secretary of the Navy Matthews and a party of high officials landed safely at Moffett field near here, early today after being forced back from a flight to Honolulu by engine trouble.

The secretary and several high ranking navy officials were en route to the Hawaiian islands to dedicate a new national cemetery.

Traveling in Secretary Matthews' private plane, the party took off from Moffett field at 1:38 a. m. (EST) today.

Six hundred miles at sea one engine on the four-engine plane quit. The pilot, whose name was not available, radioed that he was turning back.

Air-sea rescue service from Hamilton field dispatched a C-47 rescue plane to escort the crippled plane back to land. Both arrived safely.

Officials at Moffett field said Secretary Matthews' plane would take off again tonight for Honolulu.

In addition to Matthews, the Navy said at Washington, the party included

Capt. R. W. Ruble, aide to the secretary, and Mrs. Matthews and Margaret Matthews, their daughter, Mrs. Phoebe McCarthy, personal secretary to Matthews.

Chevrolet-Fisher Strike Is Averted

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 1.—(P)—A threatened strike of 4,500 workers at the Chevrolet and Fisher body plants here was averted last night.

James L. Pfaffenback, financial secretary of local 25, CIO United Auto Workers, said the settlement resulted from a series of meetings between union and company officials.

Neither union or company spokesmen would announce the settlement terms.

Workers at the two plants voted overwhelmingly for a strike last week in protest against a reported speed-up on assembly lines and other dissatisfaction with working conditions.

"If the terms worked out are followed, everything will be all right," Pfaffenback said.

Rev. Lindley To be Here

Comes September 15 as Pastor of Federated Church

Reverend Glen Lindley, D. D., of Princeton, Illinois, has accepted the pastorate of the Federated Congregational and Presbyterian church of Sedalia and will arrive here on September 15 to begin the work.

Dr. Lindley has occupied the position of regional director of the northern area of Illinois for several years for the Congregational-Christian conference and has been handling the young peoples' work and the vacation camps.

Mr. and Mrs. Lindley have a daughter, married and living in Pittsburgh, Kas., and a daughter in Mexico City, Mexico, whose husband is an architect engaged in building.

The Lindleys have been occupying their summer home for the past eight weeks at Pelican lake in Minnesota. This being the nineteenth summer they have spent on this beautiful lake.

They passed through Sedalia after leaving the daughter at Kansas City and are going on to Princeton to get things in order, in time to become Sedalians in earnest.

The Congregational-Presbyterian church recently purchased the house at 814 West Fifth street as a manse, which will be occupied by the minister on or about the twelfth of September.

Enter Milwaukee For Air Academy

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 1.—(P)—The American Legion's 31st national convention today approved Wisconsin's bid for a national air academy at Milwaukee.

The proposal of the Wisconsin department was not acted upon as a formal resolution but was approved by the convention resolutions commission and referred back to the Wisconsin department.

Legionnaires from that state were advised to ask Wisconsin congressmen to introduce a measure proposing the air academy.

John J. Scott, commander of Milwaukee's Cudworth post which sponsored the resolution, said Milwaukee would be "an ideal place" for a national air academy, and that it has "wonderful weather conditions" with an annual temperature range of 100 degrees.

The plan calls for a service school similar to the army's West Point and navy Annapolis.

World Plunged Into War Ten Years Ago by Hitler

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—(P)—It is ten years ago today since Adolf Hitler plunged the world into its first trillion-dollar war.

No paperhanger in history ever messed up a place more.

Remember? Millions of people heard the broadcast of the fateful speech to the reichstag in which Hitler told the German people their troops had marched into Poland.

It gave a shivery feeling. The fiery emotionalism of the little man seeped through his alien tongue into the hearts of listeners in many lands. The hall in which he spoke was hung with scarlet banners, for red is the color of war. And the hall shook with bursts of massed applause—as if led by invisible cheer-

Chilly Entry Made By September

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 1.—(P)—September made its coldest entry into Kansas City, setting a new weather record with a low of 47 degrees at 6 a. m. The previous record for the day had been 54 in 1893.

However, after the cold surge from the north the wind shifted to the west and the mercury rose to 69 by 11 a. m. under a bright sun.

Tarkio was the coldest spot in Missouri last night with 38 degrees.

Major Threat By 'Commies' In Japan Over

Gen. MacArthur Says on Surrender Anniversary

TOYKO, Thursday, Sept. 1.—(P)—General MacArthur today observed the fourth anniversary of the Japanese surrender ceremony with a statement that Communism no longer is a major threat in Japan.

"Today, Japan might, indeed, be viewed as a symbol of hope for less fortunate peoples overwhelmed by the despotic rule of coercive force," he declared in a forward-looking review of the occupation which he commands. The formal surrender took place Sept. 2, 1945.

"The Japanese people," he said, "have fully and faithfully observed their surrender commitments and advanced steadily along the road of spiritual degeneration and physical reconstruction."

Noting "accelerated progress" in every phase during the past year, he said that assaults on democracy by "the small existent communist minority" had been effectively repulsed by Japanese public opinion rather than by police power.

"As a result," he stated, "the threat of Communism as a major issue in Japanese life is past. It fell victim of its own excesses. The Japanese mind penetrated the hypocrisy supporting its position. This test of strength, while disturbing to orderly progress, served to bring to light for the first time the full latent power of the Japanese devotion to the concepts of freedom and the integrity

Nurse Fighting Polio Afflicted

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 1.—(P)—A young, attractive nurse who dedicated her life to fighting polio is being treated in a hospital for her second attack of the disease in 16 years.

Virginia Warner, 24, a nurse in a San Angelo hospital, was stricken with the disease July 27. Sixteen years ago—on her eighth birthday anniversary—she was stricken with polio the first time.

After suffering the disease the first time Virginia decided to dedicate her life to combatting polio. She graduated from a nurses school and served in polio wards in a number of hospitals.

Five Day Week In Effect on The Railways

Is Applicable to Near Million of Rail Workers

By Norman Walker

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1.—(P)—The five-day week most other American wage-earners have enjoyed for years went into effect today for nearly a million railroad workers.

It is a revolutionary change for the rail industry, which must continue keeping the trains running day in and day out every day without a halt.

The reduction from a six-day week, effective last midnight, was a long time coming for the million non-operating workers who service and maintain the trains.

Under terms of an agreement worked out between the rail unions and carriers—based on recommendations made by a presidential board last December—these workers will get the same pay for the shorter week that they got for working six days.

William M. Leiserson, chairman of the presidential board, said however that the new five-day week rates will be about the same as the average for factory workers for comparable skills. The trains are expected to keep their present schedules. The several hundred thousand operating workers, such as engineers and firemen, are not affected by the change. They are paid on a mileage basis.

Cut To Make Saving
The railroads, given an eight-month notice of the new work week, began in advance to cut corners to save money. For instance, they closed many freight stations and offices on Saturdays. And many jobs are being mechanized.

Economies already put into effect, or in the process of being made, are designed to hold to a minimum any required additions to the railroad working force.

The carriers at one time estimated they would have to hire 200,000 and 300,000 extra men. Now the unions estimate the number will be 100,000 or less.

Might Change Mail Service
The change-over has concerned the Postoffice Department to the extent that it has said it may have to move more mail by air and truck, particularly on week-ends when most of the non-operating workers will have their two days off.

But the department is waiting to see how the new arrangement works out.

As to costs, the presidential board estimated the shorter week would mean an initial $380,000, 000 annual payroll cost. William T. Farley, president of the Association of American Railroads, figured it at $450,000,000.

The railroads get a four per cent freight rate boost, worth $293,000,000 in added revenue, effective today to help defray costs of the change. Farley said recently the carriers will "try to get along" without asking for a further increase.

One worry in many small towns without regular telegraph offices is that the railroad telegraph operator, who handles their private messages, won't be on duty Saturdays. Such operators have been off on Sundays right along.

The reason the 40-hour week has been so long coming to the rail industry is that rail workers were exempted from the wage-hour law adopted in 1938. That law established the five-day week for most other wage-earners.

Report Tito Has 600,000 Under Arms

ROME, Sept. 1.—(P)—The Italian news agency Astra today quoted Trieste sources as saying Premier Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia has 600,000 men under arms.

This number could be brought up quickly to 1,000,000 men in the event Yugoslavia is attacked, the agency's dispatch said.

Dodgers Clubbed Out A Victory Over Reds

BROOKLYN, Sept. 1.—(P)—The Brooklyn Dodgers moved within one game of the league-leading St. Louis Cardinals today as they clubbed out an 11-8 victory over the Cincinnati Reds in the first game of a day-night double-header.

The Reds almost pulled the game out of the fire in a wild ninth during which they scored four runs and the Dodgers used four pitchers Manager Burt Shotton of Brooklyn was thumbed out of the game for the first time in three seasons as Dodger manager.

Call For Vaughan Resignation

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Sept. 1.—(P)—Rep. Keating (R-NY) today called for the resignation of Maj. Gen. Harry Vaughan as President Truman's military aide.

Keating issued a statement prepared before the president announced in Washington that he would keep Vaughan as his aide.

Keating, a veteran of both world wars, is a co-sponsor with Sen. Mundt (D-SDak) of a bill to regulate the activities of the five percenters.

"If General Vaughan is going to engage even in the activities he has admitted," Keating declared, "at least he ought to take off his uniform."

Answer Filed To Suit by Okee L. Rice

Action as Move To Set Temporary Injunction Aside

A separate answer to an injunction suit August 23 by Rice Leghorn Farms, Inc., against Okee L. Rice and Willie Kreisler was filed in circuit court this afternoon as a preliminary move to a motion to set aside a temporary injunction.

The answer filed by Okee L. Rice, the defendant, consists of denials of allegations in the injunction suit and asks the court to dismiss the plaintiff's petition.

Rice denies that he or his wife ever transferred, sold or assigned to the plaintiff any title or property rights to customer cards mentioned in the original injunction suit; asserts that the plaintiff now has use of this customer list although this list is the personal property of himself and his wife and they are entitled to possession thereof. Similar statements are made concerning ownership of a list of flock owners of which Rice contends rightful ownership.

In spite of this ownership claim, Rice states that he returned cards and filing cases and flock owners lists to the plaintiff solely as a compliance of an order of court in the injunction cause and for no other purpose.

Denials Are Made
Rice in his answer admits that he did resign as president of Rice Leghorn Farm, Inc., about March 3, 1949 but denies that said resignation as president was at a meeting of R. F. C. officials, and denies that said resignation was voluntary on his part and, on the contrary, affirmatively alleges that his said resignation as president was brought about and induced by false and unfounded representations made to him by William M. Defies Board to Teach Under Tree

MOUNTAIN VIEW, Mo., Sept. 1.—(P)—Seven pupils of Hines school near here are being taught on the lawn in the shade of a big oak tree today.

Their teacher, Mrs. Verdis Ayers, said she's defying a district school board order that she close the school and send her pupils to classes here.

The board decided this summer that only 23 pupils resided in the school district and it would be "advantageous" for the youngsters to ride buses to school here. Accordingly, Hines school was padlocked.

Mrs. Ayers said she was defying the board on the grounds that 25 children of school age live in the district and the board has no right to close a school unless there are fewer than 25 pupils.

The board, composed of Gilbert Martin, Alden Duncan and L. B. Hooper, reports all but seven of the district's school-age children are attending Mountain View school.

Big question before the board: How to compel the seven children being taught by Mrs. Ayers to quit their open air classes and go to school here.

Clings to Well Side Saving Son

GEORGES MILLS, N. H., Sept. 1.—(P)—A young mother clung to the side of a 40-foot abandoned well today, clutching her two-year-old son until rescuers hauled them to safety.

Mrs. Earl Dumont rushed to the well when informed by Mervin Mason, 12, a neighbor, that the child had fallen through an 18-inch opening in the well cover.

The mother removed her clothing, in order to squeeze through the narrow opening, and reached the baby.

Unable to climb up again, she told the Mason boy to run a mile and a half to the village for help. The baby's father arrived about the same time as firemen and helped pull the pair to safety.

Vaughan Be Kept As Aide

President Asserts He Plans no Change; Little Other Comment

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1.—(P)—Drew Pearson testified today that Maj. Gen. Harry H. Vaughan telephoned the Justice Department in 1946 "asking some intervention" in the income tax case of a New Orleans oil man.

The columnist took the witness chair in the Senate's "five percent" investigation shortly after a White House news conference at which President Truman said Vaughan would stay on as his army aide.

Pearson identified the case as that of W. T. Burton, New Orleans oil man, and a "very good friend of William Helis."

The columnist said Burton had been tried twice on income tax fraud charges, and on both occasions the jury failed to agree.

He went on to testify that Burton was subsequently indicted and convicted of a charge of jury bribing.

"There was a lot of maneuvering to prevent his conviction," Pearson said.

He said he learned of Vaughan's purported interest in the case from James P. McGranery, now U. S. judge for the eastern district of Pennsylvania. At the time, 1946, McGranery was the assistant to the then Attorney General, Tom Clark.

(At Philadelphia Judge McGarney's office said he was not in court today and could not be reached immediately for comment.)

Hearing Is Recessed
To other questions, Mr. Truman said the hearing was held on Capitol Hill, and that it would not be continued up here (meaning the White House).

A reporter asked whether he thought Vaughan had got a "fair deal" from the committee.

Mr. Truman declined comment. Although the committee has dismissed Vaughan as a witness, Senator McCarthy (R-Wis.) said it is "just getting started" in its inquiry about him.

McCarthy, talking with reporters in advance of the president's news conference, also said that for Mr. Truman to keep Vaughan as his military aide would amount to endorsing not only the "new deal" and the "fair deal" but also "all of Harry Vaughan's deals."

Vaughan himself—won't be seen around that one former White House figure—John Maragano—(Please turn to Page 4, Column 4)

Asking for $598.681

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 1.-(AP)-The federal government today filed a tax lien seeking $598,681 from Louis H. (Champ) Mitchell, who until recently owned five extended credit stores in the St. Louis area.

The jeopardy assessment states the amount is due for delinquent and unpaid taxes for the years 1942 and 1946 inclusive. It gives Mitchell 10 days to pay it off or post bond in the sum the government claims.

Asking for $598.681

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 1.-(AP)-The federal government today filed a tax lien seeking $598,681 from Louis H. (Champ) Mitchell, who until recently owned five extended credit stores in the St. Louis area.

The jeopardy assessment states the amount is due for delinquent and unpaid taxes for the years 1942 and 1946 inclusive. It gives Mitchell 10 days to pay it off or post bond in the sum the government claims.

PACKARD WILLYS-OVERLAND

Ten years ago today World War II started. Pictured above are some of the high points of memory stirred by this grim anniversary. It was on Sept. 1, 1939, that the thunder of German bombs on Poland overtook the first act of a tragedy fated to engulf the world. The Nazi hordes overran Europe almost without hindrance — at first. The triumphant crash of bombs on Pearl Harbor proved really to be the death knell of the dictators, for it brought the United States into the conflict and shocked its citizens into the greatest war effort ever made by any people in history. Memory recalls D-day — the long-awaited Allied invasion of Hitler's "Fortress Europa." It was the beginning of the end for Nazi Germany. D-day's climax: V-E day. And on the other side of the world, Yanks and their allies fought — island by island, stinking island — up from the bottom of the world to blast the very heart of Japan. Then came the atom bomb. The final blow. Almost anti-climactic was the formal surrender. "End of history's most devastating war. End of the Japanese empire. End, too, but unperceived — of the bonds that bound the Allies together through the war years. Beginning — also unperceived — of years of world unrest and a "cold war" that is not yet resolved.

Truman Calls Labor To Be 'Full Partner'

Labor Day Message On Responsibility By Chief Executive

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1—(AP)—Pres. Truman Wednesday night called upon American labor to become "a full partner" in all the nation's affairs both at home and overseas.

"This year, more than ever, it is a time for a sober evaluation of the problems that labor, together with all other groups in our country, faces in our complex world, and of our mutual responsibility in meeting them," the President said in a Labor Day statement prepared for delivery today.

"Labor has become a full partner in our national economy," Mr. Truman said, and added: "But today labor must also be a full partner in all our undertakings, not only within our borders but beyond the seas; for in the long run our actions in the field of foreign policy will affect the welfare of every man woman and child."

Text Of Statement

The text of the President's statement: "This is the fifth year in which it has been my privilege to call upon the American people to observe Labor Day—a day dedicated to the workers who have helped so much in the advance of our country to the position of responsibility and opportunity it occupies in the world today.

"The American worker enjoys an economic, political and social status solidly established on democratic principles and unequalled elsewhere in the world. From time to time labor has suffered setbacks, but on each such occasion its essential strength has asserted itself and progress has been resumed. And as labor has progressed, so has the nation.

"Labor Day, however, is more than a holiday for celebrating the achievements of the worker and extolling his contribution to the forward march of our economy. This year, more than ever, it is a time for a sober evaluation of the problems that labor, together with all other groups in our country, faces in our complex world, and of our mutual responsibility in meeting them.

"All Our Undertakings" "Labor has become a full partner in our economy. The machinery for weighing labor's needs and for adjusting the problems of labor-management relations is being developed and improved through the cooperation of employers and employees. But today labor must also be a full partner in our undertakings, not only within our borders but beyond the seas; for in the long run our actions in the field of foreign policy will affect the welfare of every man, woman and child. It is a source of pride that statesmen in the ranks of labor are alert to their responsibility in this field and are making a vital contribution to our international programs.

"I am confident that labor will give the same devotion to the attainment of our common objectives at home and abroad that it has long demonstrated in seeking better working conditions, adequate wages and a higher standard of security for workers and their families."

Gypsies Stay Put

By William Gober, Jr.
AP Newsfeature
JACKSONVILLE, Fla. — Far from their ancestral hills of Spain a band of gypsies has come to rest in Florida, trying to see if they can outwit a proverb.

Black-eyed Marie Stephenson and her kin have pitched "camp" in thickly-draped quarters on Jacksonville's busy Adams street. Traffic thunders by a few feet from their door.

Here, they hope, is the end of the trail, the vanishing of a wanderlust. Why are gypsies forever wandering? An old proverb of theirs explains it: "Chiquel sos pirela, cocol terela." — "A wandering dog will not starve."

Marie and her clan are going to see about that. Whether they can stay put and stay fed. They draw only one line — no romance, no love, no marriage with non-gypsies.

Marie, like her great grandmother, took up the profession of palmistry while very young.

She is shy. But even so, she is the only one of her closely-knit circle who will talk about the hopes and fears of the gypsies.

She is pretty by the standards of Spain, land of her forbears.

Traditionally Spanish men say that a beautiful woman must have three things: black eyes, lashes and eyebrows, and three things elegant, hands, lips, tresses.

She is 20 years old and small, standing barely five feet. Her dress is Americanized but there still remains a trace of the vivid greens and reds, the bright bangles so loved by the Romani. Her voice is soft with a slight accent.

Marie likes American girls but for one thing: "Some of them are shallow and some are bold especially where men are concerned," she says. To her, the art of coquetry and courtship is missing.

She goes to the movies often. Her favorite female star is Joan Fontaine, her favorite male actor Tyrone Power. A recent film of life among the gypsies was soundly criticized by Marie and her kin. In it, the gypsy heroine tears a hunk of meat apart with her hands and gnaws it like a she-wolf.

"It's never like that with us," says Marie with a serious light in her oblique eyes. "We're neat and have manners."

Their quarters bear her out. They live in one long room, formerly a store. Heavy draperies partition it into clean rooms. Brightly-burnished cooking utensils hang on the kitchen wall. A small shrine is there, too. Marie and her family are Roman Catholics.

The men also are trying to fit themselves into the modern pattern. One has taken a steady job in an industrial plant and wears an Odd Fellows lodge pin.

Marie does not dance in the "popular" version. But the gypsies here are planning a common feast later this summer. And there will be barbecued pig, wine, music and fast flamenco dances by Marie.

Besides attempts at light flirtations, she is bothered little by payllos — non-gypsy men. They seem to sense that these people are deadly serious about their moral codes.

Someday, Marie believes, a lithe young gypsy will come along and take her for his bride in a blood ritual. He will have tight bronze skin and a quick eye for the future. He will know and help her understand the American way.

"It will have to be like that or

Attended Reunion During Trip East

Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Schultz and son, Elmer, 1218 South Osage avenue, returned Tuesday night from a vacation trip to New York. Leaving here a week ago Sunday they attended a family reunion at Hermann that day and the next day went to New Haven where nothing," she says. "Because, you see, we are gypsies and we can never change."

they visited Mr. Schultz's father, Charles Schultz, and his sister, Mrs. George Pointer. From there they went to Wheeling, Va., and the next morning drove to Nanuet, N. Y., where they visited their son and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Schultz. Wayne Schultz is employed at Dr. Ledesma's laboratories there. On Saturday they attended a double header ball game between the Cardinals and the New York Giants. Sunday morning they drove to Niagara Falls and into Canada, going from there to Finley, O., and then home.

House Members May Wish They'd Stayed on the Job

By Peter Edson
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1 (NEA).—So the House of Representatives decided to go home for 26 days. So the representatives wanted to give the senators time to catch up. So distinguished members of the lower house felt they had nothing to do. How interesting.

A look at the House calendar for Aug. 26—last work day before the boys went home on vacation—shows just how much unfinished business they left behind them. Furthermore, the Senate will probably complete action on a number of important measures within the next three weeks.

So that when the sunburned and vacation-fatigued representatives return to Washington on Sept. 21, they will find piled on their desks a vast accumulation of old papers and legislative bottles of soured milk. It will easily take them up to Thanksgiving to clean up the mess. It should make them wish they had stayed on the job and looked after things the way they're supposed to.

Of first importance is the aid to education bill. The Senate has passed a bill on this subject. Chairman John Lesinski's House committee on labor and education is all snarled up on a religious side issue and is making no progress. They ought to be here threshing it out.

This same committee is similarly fouled up on labor legislation. The Senate has passed a bill making some changes in the two-year-old Taft-Hartley bill. The House passed a quite different bill, then voted to reconstruct it. The House labor committee has done nothing to break the deadlock. Instead, it has gone on strike. It ought to be here threshing it out.

A bill to increase social security benefits has finally been approved by the House ways and means committee after four years of monkeying around. They ought to be here threshing it out.

And The List Goes on
Similarly, President Truman's proposals for national health insurance have been before the Congress for several years. The Senate labor committee has held partial hearings and recessed. The House commerce committee hasn't even begun to hold hearings. They ought to be here threshing it out.

Legislation to grant statehood to Hawaii and Alaska has been reported out by the House public lands committee for some months, but there has been no progress. They ought to be here threshing it out.

Also the Marshall Plan and the Army civil functions appropriation bills went in conference. Stop-gap legislation has been passed authorizing expenditures on these programs until October, but this doesn't clean up the business. They ought to be here threshing it out.

By the time the House comes back to town, the Senate will have completed action on military establishment appropriations, military assistance for Europe authorizations and interior, deficiency and supplemental appropriations legislation. In all, over $2,000,000,000 worth of money bills for this year's government expenditures will be hung up, three months after the fiscal year has begun. They ought to be here threshing them out.

These Are Only Short Range Problems
There were 70 reported bills on what's known as the House "Union Calendar," unacted on as the representatives went fishing. They ought to be here threshing them out.

There were nine other bills and resolutions reported out by committees and awaiting action on the House regular calendar when the representatives got out of town. They ought to be here threshing them out.

These are just the short-range matters requiring more or less immediate attention. If you want to get into the long range things to be done, there's a list as long as your arm. Complete revision of the U. S. tax structure was talked about all through the war as a pressing postwar problem. Nothing has been done about it yet. The Knudsen Republican tax cut of the 80th Congress and the talk today about cutting excise taxes are piecemeal approaches to the problem. They ought to be here, etc.

• So They Say
I'm not worried over a probable depression, but I am worried at times because too many Americans forget that our high standard of living increases as we become more and more industrialized.—Harry A. Bullis, board chairman, General Mills.

We want to know if Cohen (gambling czar Mickey Cohen) and his cohorts reported in their income tax returns the huge turnover of money related in the recordings. We expect to get a line on a lot of tax evaders in the underworld.—Harry C. Westover, internal revenue collector,

Anti-Monopoly Congressmen Irrked by 'Lobbying' of One of Truman's Economic Advisers

By Robert S. Allen

(Ed. Note — While Drew Pearson is on vacation, the Washington Merry-Go-Round is being written by his old partner, Robert S. Allen.)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1 — President Truman, who has complained repeatedly about lobbying, is due to get a similar complaint against a member of his own official family.

He is John D. Clark of the White House council of economic advisers.

The former Standard Oil of Indiana official has aroused the ire of a group of anti-monopoly congressmen. They charge he has been quietly lobbying to restore the basing-point price system outlawed by the supreme court.

Chief complainers are Reps. Wright Patman, D., Texas and John Carroll, D., Colorado, who were largely instrumental in putting through the House recently the bill barring business mergers. This measure is the most important anti-trust legislation enacted in many years.

Patman and Carroll are taking their lobbying complaint against Clark directly to the President.

Their contention is that it is futile for them to seek to strengthen the government's hand against monopoly when a member of the White House staff is opposing them. They want the President to muzzle Clark.

His position on this issue is curious.

Last summer, he vigorously backed the federal trade commission when a committee headed by Sen. Homer Capehart, R., Indiana, tried to browbeat the agency into approving basing-point legislation. Clark strongly upheld the FTC in its refusal.

Four months later, the supreme court ruled against Standard Oil of Indiana in an anti-trust case brought by a group of Michigan small business men. Following this decision Clark, apparently, reversed his attitude. Since then, he has been quietly pressuring for restoration of the basing-point system.

Native D. P.'s

Senator Pat McCarran, D., Nev., is not only vehemently opposed to foreign D. P.'s, but appears bent on making displaced persons out of a group of native Americans.

That is the charge made against him by the Pyramid Lake Paiute tribe in his home state.

A resolution adopted by the tribal council charges that a bill introduced by McCarran would turn over valuable reservation land to white cattlemen. The interior department has denounced the measure and the supreme court has upheld the tribe's claims.

McCarran's bill would circumvent that decision.

Note — Despite his intransigent opposition to liberalizing the obstructive displaced persons law, McCarran sought to obtain special permission to bring in several hundred Basque sheepherders for Nevadans.

Suppressed ECA Report

One of the major differences between the House and Senate on the deadlocked ECA appropriation bill is continuance of the so-called Marshall plan watchdog committee. The Senate is insisting on continuing the committee; the House is opposed.

Senate demand for continuance of the committee is based on the contention it is needed to maintain an independent check on ECA operations abroad. But while the Senate has been pressing this argument, the committee has been withholding a highly revealing report on French attitude toward ECA.

Reason for the suppression is not clear. The report contains the type of information the committee is supposed to supply Congress. But, whatever the reason, the committee has been sitting on the report for more than two months —while battling with the House for another $350,000 to continue functioning.

Basic theme of the report is that very little effort is being made to inform the French people what the U. S. is doing for them under the Marshall plan.

As a result of this failure, says the report, "this enormous operation, which is costing the United States so much money, is viewed with hostility. This effort is taken by the great majority in France to be a meddlesome, presumptuous scheme of the United States to use France to our own ends."

The report warns that the Marshall plan cannot succeed as long as this attitude prevails.

"It is a possibility," says the report, "that this plan will have come and gone, had its short stay of four years and cost the U. S. taxpayer perhaps $15,000,000,000, without its real intent being realized in Europe. To the extent that the Marshall plan fails of achievement of its goals by 1952, America's problem, far from being over, will have just begun. He will be up against a France which has never understood the Marshall plan, or that America was in good faith offering to underwrite recovery and the consequent protection against Communism."

The report severely criticizes the French government and French press for not publicizing the work of the Marshall plan.

"They have left the job of explaining American efforts to succor France," the report says, "to the biggest, one of the richest and the most effective publicity organizations in the world, the Communist party. That party has not missed a bet to deride, malign and falsify the Marshall plan with every segment of the French population. The French administrators of the Marshall plan have not begun to match these hostile operations."

The report states that leading French newspapers bluntly declare they cannot "afford" to be pro-American because it would cost them circulation.

"It is probably safe to say," the report says, "that one New York paper has carried more analytical explanation of the Marshall plan's objectives than all the non-Communist French press combined. The parties in the French coalition will not undertake any international program unless they are convinced that the end outweighs political differences. There are no signs that such a conviction is about to emerge and the United States as well as France faces the consequences."

Mr. and Mrs. A. Are Okay; But How About Their Friends?

A psychology professor at the University of California at Los Angeles is amazed over the results of a recent test he gave his students, which brought to light the fact that students thought of themselves as "average" but rated other students as "maladjusted."

Well, if he tries the same type test on Mr. and Mrs. America he'll probably discover that most of them harbor a whole set of similar convictions.

Mr. and Mrs. America are firmly convinced they spend their income wisely. But just get 'em started on their friends and neighbors. They're always making mistakes, and why they paid so much for such-and-such Mr. and Mrs. America will never be able to understand.

Mr. and Mrs. A. also think they're pretty happy. But they aren't so sure about their friends. They can't figure out why some of them married each other in the first place. And they can't figure out how the others put up with each other. And when they hear that the Joneses are getting a divorce they "aren't a bit surprised."

"Our Kids Were Brought Up Right"

And take their kids. Mr. and Mrs. A. think they've done a pretty good job of bringing up their own. But they could sure tell the neighbors on both the right and left across the street a thing or two. They start a sentence beginning "What THAT kid needs" you can be sure THAT kid belongs to somebody else.

And so it goes. The college student who thinks he's average but is convinced the other students in the class are maladjusted for one reason or another isn't any funnier than the rest of us.

We're all sure that we're doing the best we can—and always wondering why the other fellow can't see the mistakes he's making.

But at least it gives us something to talk about.

Successful Treatment of Hysteria is Often Challenging

BY EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.
Written for NEA Service

We have all heard or perhaps used the expression "Don't be hysterical." Usually this admonition is given to a person who is emotionally upset and is laughing or crying too hard or showing an uncontrollable fit of rage. As soon as such a person gets control over his emotions he becomes perfectly normal. This is not the meaning which doctors place on the word when they speak of hysteria.

Hysteria from the medical viewpoint is something quite different. It is used to describe a condition which usually cannot be controlled by conscious effort. The patient with true hysteria has disturbances in sensation, perhaps convulsions, or is unable to move certain muscles.

In hysteria, an attack of convulsions may be started because of some emotional situation. The convulsions allow the victim of hysteria to escape from a difficult situation. Of course, not all convulsions are caused by hysteria and they must be distinguished from the convulsions produced by epilepsy or from other nervous conditions.

Skin Unable to "Feel"

The change in sensation often present in hysteria is a most interesting condition. The ability of some part of the skin to "feel" is generally lost entirely; a pin can be stuck deep into that area without causing any pain.

The treatment of symptoms of true hysteria is often difficult. The cause of the mental strain must be sought and studied. Gradual persuasion and re-education is helpful for some, but other methods must be used on many occasions. The successful treatment of hysteria is a challenging and difficult problem. It cannot always be successfully solved.

THE DOCTOR ANSWERS
BY EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.

QUESTION: What is the cause of sores on my feet which look like blisters and water comes out of them when they break? They are also itchy.

ANSWER: There are several possibilities, the most likely of which is some form of what is commonly known as ringworm. Probably the diagnosis can only be made by taking scrapings from them and examining them under the microscope.

"SINCE when do you have to get permission from the gilded boy friend?" Fritz demanded, as soon as they were on the floor.

"Just since this evening," Gaynel would hand him back as good as he gave.

"What's he got that I haven't?" Fritz wanted to know. "Besides a yacht and an airplane and a few millions, of course. You never took orders from me."

His eyes were still as extravagantly blue. They still could do things to her when he bent his head and looked at her like that. He still could dance divinely.

She said, "I never take orders from anyone. My date's with Barry. I'm still old-fashioned enough to believe in the rudiments of manners." She must be old-fashioned in more than one way.

She had told Barry that she was, about marriage. For some unknown reason she suddenly wished she had given him his answer a little while ago at their table, before she had seen Fritz.

"You're fashioned just right to suit me," Fritz declared, and he bent his head still lower and took a little kiss from her neck.

"Fritz! They'll see you! Behave yourself or I won't dance."

"That's why I did it. So they would see me." He gave her a grin. "Your boy friend was looking. I wanted him to know I can have a look-see, at least. And you know, my sweet, you wouldn't like me half so well if I were good."

She said, "I'm not sure that I like you at all—tonight. Perhaps Bessie was looking, too."

Fritz said he hoped she had been and for some reason Gaynel felt much better. Not that she had been feeling bad.

"I wish," Gaynel said, "you wouldn't keep calling Barry my gilded boy friend. He's a grand person."

Fritz said, "He's your boy friend, isn't he? You're always playing about with him. Would you, if he weren't so gilded?"

Gaynel stopped dancing. "Now I won't dance," she said, and started back toward the big table.

"You can finish it with your girl friend." She did not know why Fritz could make her so mad.

Fritz said, "Even Bessie's freckles are gilt. You see, my love, I'm more honest than you are."

"You're despicable," Gaynel said.

BACK at their own table, she told Barry she was tired and wanted to go home. The place had lost all its glamour for her. It was smoky and hot, noisy.

"You won't forget," she said, as they drove in Barry's car to Lake Shore Boulevard, "to give me that itemized account—in full. It may take the rest of my life, but I'm going to pay you back."

Barry said, "You've already started paying dividends. By just giving me this evening. I wish you'd forget the rest."

"You know I can't. You can't pay my debts."

"There's nothing I'd rather do."

"This is different. This is Pat."

Why did she always shy away so quickly from anything that might lead to a definite answer? Why didn't she feel like giving Barry that answer now?

It couldn't be simply because she had seen Fritz. She hadn't liked him tonight. He was too sure of himself. Too smartypants. Yet, she had danced with him and he had touched her neck with his lips and told her she was no good, or what amounted to practically that, and now her heart felt heavy and dull, and glamour had been swept from the whole world, because of that.

Barry said, "May I kiss you good night—or would you rather I didn't?" when they parked before the big house's porte cochere.

Gaynel turned her face up toward his. "Of course you may—if you like," she said. Fritz would not have asked, she thought.

Barry's kiss was brief and brotherly. It did not touch her at all.

IT must have done something to him. His voice was husky when he said, "Thanks. And good night, my dear." Or perhaps it was because he had felt that she had not responded. He seemed in a hurry to go.

Poor Barry, he may have been gilded, but Gaynel was sorry for him. Sorry—and ashamed of herself. To treat Barry like that. When she owed so much to him.

She wondered if Fritz had kissed Bessie yet. The way he had kissed her that night in The Goat's Nest when she had clung to him.

It had not been a little kiss. It had been terrific. It had touched her. Too much. Lifted her to heaven, to a moon Barry could never have taken her to. To an ecstasy she had never experienced before or since. Plunked her down with a bang.

One little kiss.

What in heaven's name was the matter with her?

XIX

"AM I still in the dog-house?" Fritz asked a few days later, over the telephone.

"I'll let you out, if you think you can behave," Gaynel returned. Funny, the excited feeling she had at the sound of his voice. Every time the phone had rung she had thought it might be Fritz. And told herself that even if it was, she didn't care whether he called or not.

Fritz said, "I'll be a paragon. A jewel. If you'll behave and lend me a helping hand. I need a helping hand. A pretty, feminine hand."

Gaynel said, "Fire away. Both hands are at your disposal, sir."

"It's like this. There's a fellow I know who is fond of traveling and would like to go to Canada, but the last time he went over he lost his entry permit and the customs guy would hardly let him get back into his own country."

"How unkind!" Gaynel murmured.

"As a matter of fact, this fellow is me. The doubting-Thomas customs man said that I'd better get somebody to vouch for me."

"So?"

"I thought I'd take somebody along this time. Armed with nice-looking credentials like you, I know I can get back into my own country without my birth certificate."

"Of course this country couldn't do without you," Gaynel said.

"Shall I pick you up downtown?"

"Of course—you're a great picker-upper. Will this globe trotting take the whole evening?"

"It may, my love. I know of a spot on the other side where they serve swell sea food. And a drive along the lake, there's going to be a full moon, I called up the weather bureau to make sure. How's that sound to you?"

STEPS TO THE MOON

By ADELAIDE HUMPHRIES
Copyright by Hillman-Curl, Distributed by NEA Service, Inc.

THE STORY: Gaynel Foure has been reluctant to accept the marriage proposal of wealthy young Barry Bainbridge in spite of the fact she is fond of him. The chief reason is the entrance into her life of Fritz Freyman, also young but not wealthy. Then Barry's mother, Mrs. Freyman, who is a mill-hous owner, says the life of Gaynel's younger sister Pat when the child needs an emergency operation. Gaynel decides to give Barry her answer, but while dining out with Barry they run into one of Gaynel's friends, Bessie Carter, who is escorted by Fritz. Bessie says that Fritz has been seeing her often. Fritz now asks Gaynel to dance and Barry gives her permission.

• • • • •

"It sounds too good to turn down," Gaynel returned. You would have thought from the way her heart was pounding now that she had never taken a drive along the lake beneath a full moon or enjoyed a shore dinner at a roadside inn.

• • • • •

SHE was glad she had succumbed to a new blouse to perk up last year's fall suit and that she had worn it today. Fritz declared, as he handed her into his car, that she was the handsomest credentials he ever had.

Gaynel gave a grab for her hat as they rounded a corner on two wheels.

"This seems more risky than flying," she shouted. "Aren't you afraid we'll bump something, Fritz?"

"Listen," Fritz shouted back, cocking a reproving eyebrow at her, "Jalopee couldn't break a speed record if she tried."

• • • • •

A MOTORCYCLE pulled across in front so sharply that Jalopee settled back on all four wheels; a voice, angry and sardonic, wanted to know where they thought they were going, adding that they had only crashed two red lights, and violated four other traffic regulations.

"Only four?" Fritz's voice sounded polite and respectful, but it held a tinge of doubt. "How much, Officer?" He dug in his pockets, produced the worn wallet and his most persuasive grin.

"You're a fresh one, ain't you?" the officer said. "It ain't how much. It's come along."

"Oh, but, Officer," Fritz turned on all his charm, "we haven't got time for that."

"You'll take time." The charm had not worked, either, apparently, as the officer sounded—and looked—even madder. "Time's just what you'll get. There's a drive against the likes of you. There won't be no fine; you'll have to work it out."

"Ah, me," Fritz sighed and wagged his head. "I knew something was against me. It's the whole world. That's why we were stepping it up a bit. You see, Officer—as friend to friend—and my girl, we're eloping—to Canada."

"That's an old story; it's been tried on me before."

"But it's true this time, Officer," Gaynel said. After all, she had been brought along as credentials. She gave him a look that would have weakened a stronger man. "We were going to get married. We've been planning for so long and it has seemed as though the whole world was against us and now . . ." She dug in her purse and pulled out a handkerchief and applied it to her eyes.

"Don't cry, sweetheart," Fritz put an arm around her shoulder and patted her on the back. She buried her head against him and shook with sobs as though her heart would break. "Fate has been against us. But maybe, after I come out of jail, if you'll wait for me that long, we can get married."

"I ain't said I was going to prevent anyone from marrying, that was really going to get married," the officer said. He, too, leaned over to pat Gaynel's weeping shoulder. "I ain't Fate, but I ain't mean, neither. You go 'long to your wedding—only easy does it, my boy—and that ain't a bad thing for you to remember, after you're hitched."

"I'll be good to her, Officer," Fritz promised.

"If he ain't, you let me know," the officer said to Gaynel.

A plastic capsule shaped like a nice fat olive puts on a traveler's aid performance for this summer's gypsies which would make a magician turn green with envy.

Sealing in a variety of liquids to be used for removing nail polish, stopping a stocking run, erasing stains from clothing, or what have you, capsules are sandwiched in between two pads of gauze or flannel.

The opposite side of the small square gauze or flannel pad, which when given a squeeze breaks the capsule and saturates the material for instant application, is a heat-sealing fabric of matching size.

These liquid-filled capsule pads, which also provide the traveler with a skin lotion, a baby oil, various medicaments and salves without adding the weight of bottles, cans, tubes or applicators to luggage, offer another advantage to the summer vacationer. She can dispose of her traveling aid after it's used and free her baggage of even the feather-light capsules which have seen her through her journey.

French Fried Onions Are Easy to Make

There's no need to hie to the nearest restaurant to fulfill the desire for crispy French fried onions. With a handy deep fat frying thermometer to indicate when the fat is the right temperature, onion rings or other French fried foods are easy to cook. The thermometer illustrated above is exceptionally convenient because it is made of easy-to-clean unbreakable stainless steel and has a round, clock-like face with large black figures which can be read at a glance without bending or stooping. It fastens to the frying kettle with an adjustable clamp.

Scientific "palm reading" done by X-raying the hands often will enable the physician to detect many diseases otherwise difficult to diagnose.

LIMA NOODLE ENTREE

CREAMY broad egg noodles and plump green lima beans, brought together in a smooth cheese sauce, make an ideal setting for those luscious garden-ripe tomatoes so good this time of year.

Lima Noodle Entree's special virtue aside from its extra good flavor is the ease with which it can be made. The noodles are first cooked, then mixed with lima beans and bacon and folded into a cheese sauce. Tomatoes are hollowed out just slightly, arranged in the noodle mixture and partially filled with more of the mixture. Bread crumbs are sprinkled over all before baking.

Colorful and nutritious Lima Noodle Entree, served hot, with an escort of crisp little corn kernel muffins will make a mighty appealing sight to hungry youngsters after their first day at school. The protein in the good durum egg noodles and cheese plus the vitamins and minerals contributed by the fresh vegetables award this dish the blue ribbon for its health-giving qualities.

LIMA NOODLE ENTREE

Cheese Sauce
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 tablespoons enriched flour
1/2 teaspoon salt

Dash paprika
2 cups milk or 1 cup milk and 1 cup vegetable liquid
1 cup grated American cheese

Melt butter or margarine in saucepan. Stir in flour, salt and paprika. Gradually add milk, stirring constantly until thickened. Add cheese. Makes 2 1/2 cups sauce.

Casserole
4 ounces broad noodles
1/2 pound bacon, diced
2 cups green lima beans (1 No. 2 can)
2 1/2 cups cheese sauce
4 medium tomatoes or 1 No. 2 can whole tomatoes, drained
1/4 cup dry bread crumbs
2 tablespoons bacon fat

Cook noodles in boiling salted water until tender (about 5 minutes). Drain and rinse. While noodles are cooking, fry bacon slowly, pouring off all but 2 tablespoons fat. Add noodles, bacon and lima beans to Cheese Sauce. Pour into greased 8 x 8 inch baking dish, keeping out 1/2 cup of noodle mixture. Slice off tops of tomatoes and hollow out slightly. Fill tomatoes with remaining noodle mixture and arrange in center of dish. Mix crumbs with bacon fat and sprinkle over top. Bake in moderate oven (350°F.) 30 minutes. Makes 4 servings.

(CST) after a flight from Washington.

Mr. Truman will fly from Pittsburgh to Des Moines, Iowa, for an agriculture speech around 4:15 p. m. (CST) at the annual convention of the AMVETS. The Des Moines speech will be his third to a veterans organization in as many Mondays.

The president is expected to fly to Missouri after the Iowa speech to visit his brother, J. Vivian Truman, at Grandview. The brother is recovering from an accident several weeks ago.

Whether the chief executive will remain overnight in Missouri has yet to be worked out.

Denounce Holding Of Americans

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1—(AP)—Secretary of State Acheson today denounced Russia's holding of two American students in Eastern Germany as outrageous, illegal and improper.

Acheson told a news conference the Americans wandered into the Russian zone illegally, but said they were doing no harm and should be released promptly.

The students he referred to are Pete Sellers, 18, of Radnor, Pa., and Warren Oelsner, of Oyster Bay, N. Y. They have been missing since July 29.

A Budget Collection

Clothes designed to add style to a college wardrobe without subtracting much from the budget are the contribution of St. Louis dress designers.

A plaid neckerchief and skirt unite to make a sweater-dress a smart fashion for school (above).

Black and white checked shirt and skirt (center right) with shirtband collar, tie and saddle pockets.

A gray and gold plaid skirt and blouse (right).

New Life in Old Accessories

Joyce Matthews, New York actress, spirals a charm bracelet around a cravat-cut scarf, secures it and invents a new neck-interest accessory.

By Alicia Hart
NEA Staff Writer

Here's where a little trick can be employed to turn old accessories into new.

Take print scarves. Any scarf that's out of the running can be put back by whitening down its size to that of a dandy's necktie. This small-sized lady's cravat if knotted once makes pert tabs under the collar of a tailored blouse or smart neckties for wool sweaters or cotton T-shirts.

Example No. 2 of what one can do is a charm bracelet which can be wound around a necktie to make a newer display of its bangles. To wind, the bracelet must be opened and it must be secured after it's spiraled around the necktie with tiny pins or clips.

Appears Part of 'War of Nerves'

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1.—(AP)—Secretary of State Acheson said Wed. that development on the Yugoslav border appear to be part of a war of nerves.

He told a news conference that the developments appear to be taking place with a sort of calculated publicity. He did not say specifically what he had in mind, but there are rumors of Soviet troop movements toward the Yugoslav frontier.

Acheson said there are no unusual talks with the British and French about the situation, although, he added, this country is watching the developments closely.

Yugoslavia, Acheson said, has made no request for easing of the restrictions.

During a tornado, it's usually the lack of air that causes trouble. As the funnel passes, it lowers outside air pressure, so suddenly that buildings are torn apart as the air inside rushes out.

Yugoslavia Says Russia Uses Force

To Place Country In Poor Position; Troop Activity

BELGRADE, Yugoslav, Thursday, Sept. 1—(AP)—Yugoslavia accused Russia today of using force to place this country in an "unequal and subordinated position."

The charge was made in an editorial in the Communist newspaper Borda, official voice of the government of Premier Marshal Tito. The editorial was released by the ministry of information in advance of publication.

It came amid a flood of unconfirmed rumors about Soviet troop movements hard by Yugoslavia's borders. Thus far Yugoslavia has denied officially any "unusual" troop movements on her part, but Tito has cautioned his fighting men to remain on the alert.

The Borda editorial listed a number of charges against Russia and the Soviet-dominated satellite states in the Balkans' cold war of nerves.

Other Charges

They included organization of an economic blockade against Yugoslavia, provocation of border incidents, sending spies into the country and threats against the government.

Borba charged Russia with attempting to "force upon our socialist country controls necessary to bring her into an unequal and subordinated position."

This has been the basis of the row between the Russians and the Yugoslavs. Tito has demanded an "equal voice" with Moscow in determining the affairs of Communist-ruled countries. So far the demand has been spurned by Russia.

There was speculation without confirmation on a report that Premier Marshal Tito would send his case against Russia to the United Nations Security Council.

At Odds Over A Year

Russia and Yugoslavia have been at political odds since June, 1948, when the Cominform bloc of Eastern Europe ousted Tito after accusing him of deviating from Moscow's Marxist-Leninist line.

(In Washington, Secretary of State Acheson told his weekly news conference developments on the Yugoslav borders seem to be part of a war of nerves. There has been no confirmation of reports that Soviet and other Cominform country troops are mobilizing there.

There was no confirmation in Belgrade of any troop movement on the Yugoslav frontiers.

A few legations in Belgrade are the sources of most crisis reports arising inside this country where, it should be emphasized, an air of calm continues to prevail. These legations claim to have inside knowledge but decline to disclose their sources.

F.D.R. Jr., Marries Suzanne Perrin

NEW YORK, Sept. 1—(AP)—Rep. Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr., (D-Lib, NY) was married Wednesday to Miss Suzanne Perrin, a slim, blonde socialite who did a hitch in the Marines during the war.

A simple ceremony in the bride's apartment home on East 66th street joined the pair who met only last spring and had been engaged only six weeks. He is 35, she 28.

It was the second marriage for Roosevelt, who recently was divorced from the former Ethel du Pont, and the first for Miss Perrin.

Roosevelt's mother, Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, her longtime secretary, Miss Matvina Thompson, and less than a score of other relatives and close friends attended the wedding. The third son of the late President, recently elected to Congress from the 20th district here, had his brother, Elliott, as best man.

The Rev. Dr. Lee Vaughan Barker, pastor of the Broadway Tabernacle, performed the ceremony.

A reception was held later in the apartment, with champagne and music for the small group of wedding guests.

For two years during the war Miss Perrin was a member of the Marine Corps Women's Reserve. Roosevelt has two sons by his former wife.

Lions Club Met Wednesday Night

The Sedalia Lions Club, Wednesday night, held an informal meeting at the Bothwell hotel, at which time the coming Pro-Amateur golf tournament sponsored by the Sedalia Athletic Association was discussed by Jack Cunningham, president of the Association and T. H. Yount of the Sedalia Country Club where the tournament will be held. The tournament is scheduled for Monday, September 19.

Mr. Cunningham and Mr. Yount reported more than twenty-five entries have already been received and they anticipated a much larger registration of professional golfers as well as amateurs. It is the first time such a tournament has been scheduled for this area.

John Robert Hayes and his brother Russell Lee Hayes, amateur talent winners recently at the Fox Theatre, were guests and entertained the club with several musical numbers. The two boys are sponsored by Gene Young, C. W. Stephenson, was program chairman for the meeting. President A. W. Haller, presided, and announced a meeting of the Board of Directors for tonight at the home of Harold Seaberg, 908 South Stewart avenue. The meeting will begin at 8 o'clock.

The petition states that the couple was married on June 29, 1939, and separated August 29, 1949. They have three children: Woody Dean, nine, Robert Jewell, eight, and Frances Louise, six. The plaintiff asks custody of the three children, plus a judgment for their support.

Mediation Board Tries Settling MoPac Dispute

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1—(AP)—The National Mediation Board tried its hand Wednesday at settling the drawn-out dispute on the Missouri Pacific railroad.

Members of four operating brotherhoods are set to walk out on Sept. 9 in the absence of a settlement.

Chairman Frank P. Douglass of the Railway Mediation agency brought representatives of the company and the four unions—the engineers, firemen, trainmen, and conductors—into session here in an effort to end the deadlock. Douglass said that most of the grievances involved are of long standing and involve operating rules.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 1—(AP)—Her eyes filled with tears, Mrs. Geo. Herman Ruth Wednesday accepted the American Legion's distinguished service medal on behalf of her late husband, baseball's immortal "Babe."

"I am too overwhelmed to say more than thank you and God bless you," she murmured as more than 5,000 delegates to the Legion's 31st annual convention rose and applauded.

The award was originated in 1921. It has been presented to 34 persons, including Marshal Foch of France, Gen. Pershing and the late President Roosevelt. President Truman received the award Monday.

Plan Pilotless Drone Planes

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1.—(AP)—The navy plans to use pilotless drone planes flying near the speed of sound and maneuvering like jet fighters as targets for its anti-aircraft gunners.

The targets will be improved versions of the Gorgon IV, a radio-controlled drone plane powered by a circular ram jet engine.

The new version, known as the KDM-1, will be capable of longer flights than the original. The latter made several flights of more than 10 minutes in initial tests.

The drones are all metal high-winged monoplanes 22 feet long and having a 10-foot wing span. They will be launched in mid-air from twin-engine attack bombers. Remote control stations in either the parent plane or surface ships will guide the high speed targets in maneuvers similar to those employed by jet fighters.

Although the ram jet engine is capable of driving the drones at super-sonic speed—that is, faster than 763 miles an hour—the KDM-1 will be flown at speeds approximating those of fighters in the 600 miles an hour class.

The drones are being built by the Glenn L. Martin Co., Baltimore, and the navy said a number of them should be ready for delivery soon. The Marquardt Co., Van Nuys Calif., is manufacturing the ram jet engines.

NEW WEAPON IN THE WAR ON BUGS—The big machine moving down the cotton rows on the Earl Harris farm near Navasota, Tex., is a mechanical bug catcher. The catcher uses fierce blasts of air to force boll worms into its collecting funnels. Once caught, the worms are burned. Use of the new bug catcher in the Brazos river bottoms of Texas has increased cotton yield from as low as one-tenth of a bale per acre to as high as two bales per acre.

Quit Making Own Moonshine

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 1.—(AP)—Henry Bilts promised Wednesday he would put away his pressure cooker and quit making his own moonshine.

Bilts is 70 years old and hails from Higbee, Mo., in Randolph county.

U. S. District Judge Roy W. Harper placed the man on probation for a year on his word he would shut down his still.

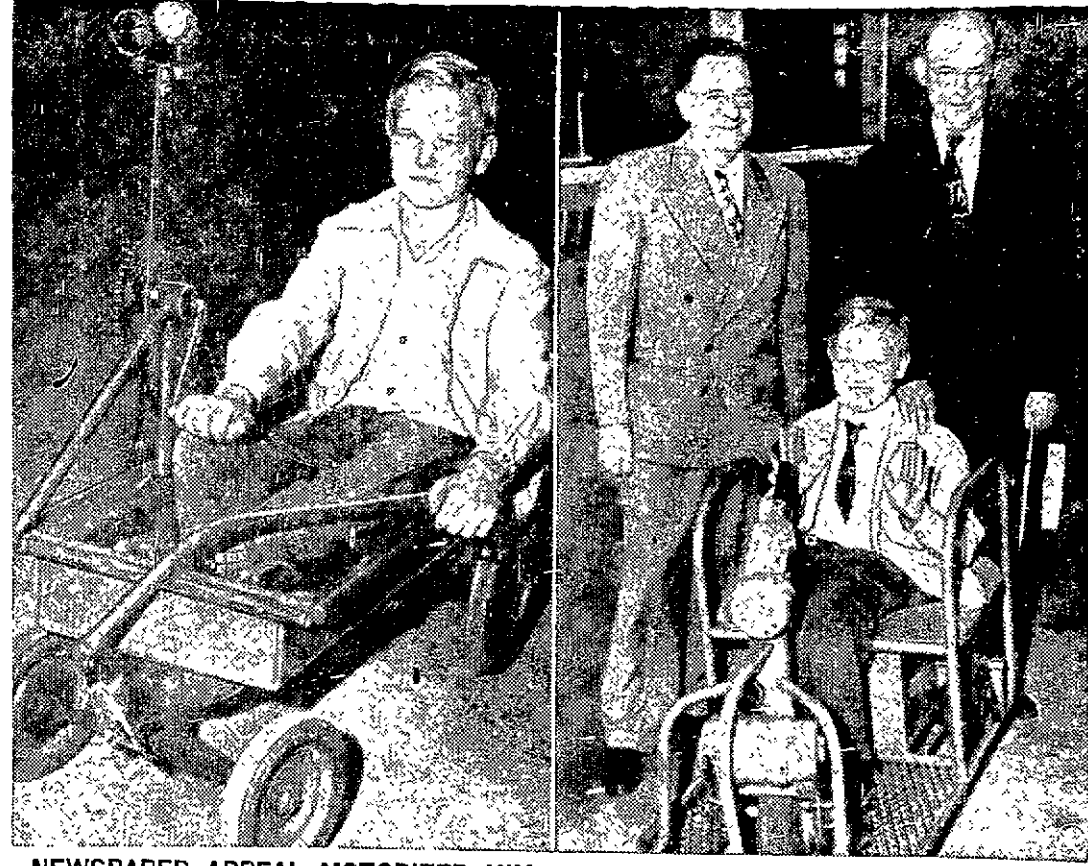

"I quit once before but I met some of the boys and they coaxed me into making just one more batch," Bilts said.

He added that he now has another source of revenue, a monthly old age pension check for $42.

Agents of the federal alcohol tax unit who paid Bilts a visit reported they found an eight and a 10-gallon can of mash in the house and an old pressure cooker and copper coils outside.

Bilts said his moonshine went at $1.50 a pint. He didn't comment on its quality.

X-rays tell of otherwise undetected internal conditions in metals and other materials by the angles at which they emerge. A new apparatus for which measurement of angles and intensities of these invisible emerging rays makes use of a Geiger counter mounted on a graduated arc.

NEWSPAPER APPEAL MOTORIZED HIM—Ever since he broke his back six years ago, Floyd Newals, 12, of Denver, Colo., has got around in the hand-powered wagon at left. When he outgrew the wagon, Floyd appealed to the Rocky Mountain News for help in getting a motor-driven invalid chair, which he couldn't afford. Denver's response came quickly, and now Floyd has the dandy motor-powered chair at right. With Floyd as he tries out the new vehicle is Tom Killian, right, Denver businessman who bought the chair for him, and at left, Tom Murray, who arranged to get the chair at wholesale price from a Cleveland, O., firm.

World Plunged Into War Ten Years Ago by Hitler

in money and damage of the long war in China, which is still in flower.

The United States picked up the biggest part of the check—$330,030,463.04—and it is still picking up the checks.

What does it all add up to? Well, the Germans are still sorting bricks from the rubble of their cities and will be for years. They are bystanders now. But the chief issue raised by Hitler is still undecided—freedom or tyranny, the oldest issue on earth and never settled.

More People Than Ever

War didn't even dent the global so well as a good long plague. It is a tremendous tribute to the imperishable vitality and optimism of the human race that it has gone on having children like mad. There are some 2,300,000,000 people in the world, more than ever. And some 150,000,000 dwell in America—more than ever.

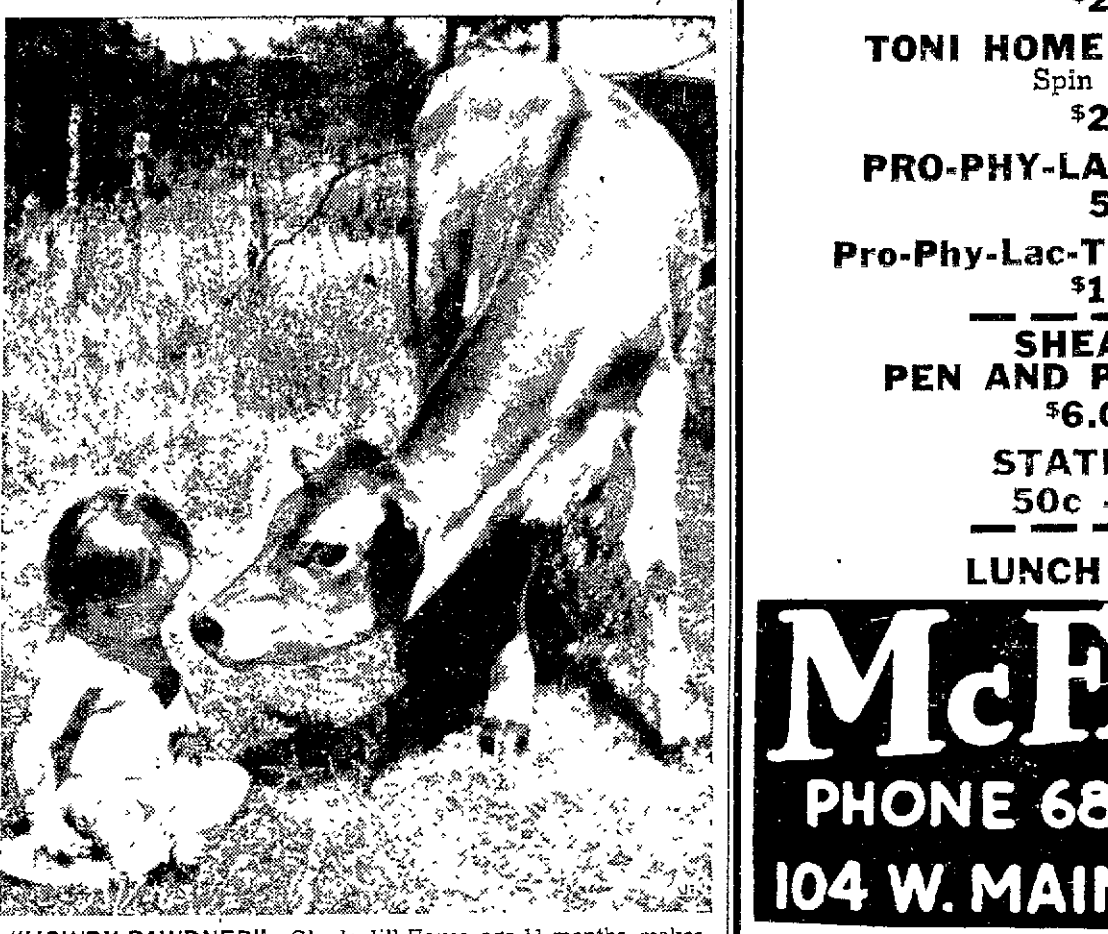

Here more people are eating higher on the hog, living better, earning more, than at any period in our story. And America is still a little startled at the realization it has replaced the British empire as the biggest single factor for world order. That carries the privileges of greater responsibility—and, inevitably, higher taxes. That is the price of being the big brother.

What did the war teach us? Well chiefly, it taught us a sense of geography—and that's important. Places like Bastogne, Kasserine Gap, Tokyo, Paris, London, Liege and Berlin don't seem so strange and far now. Millions came home with memories of what people are like and how they live in foreign places.

There is a steel skyscraper growing up now beside Manhattan's East river, the first building in the United Nations new home. The problem is no longer whether any particular nation can get along in the world, but whether all nations can get along in the world together.

Whether they do or not. It is doubtful whether war in itself, even in the radio-active atomic age, can alone destroy anything so durable and stubborn as mankind.

For nothing yet has ever been able to keep people from having hope—and children.

Senate O. K. On Wage And Hour Law

Bill To Senate-House Conference To Settle Differences

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1.—(AP)—A bill raising the minimum wage in the Wage-Hour act from 40 to 75 cents an hour was passed by the Senate Wednesday.

It now will go to a Senate-House conference committee which will compromise differences between it and a bill already passed by the House.

The Senate decision, taken on a voice vote, was a partial victory for President Truman, but to get the measure through speedily, his lieutenants had to abandon attempts to extend the Wage-Hour act to millions of workers now exempt.

22,000,000 Covered By Bill

Senator Pepper (D-Fla.), floor manager of the bill, said that about 1,500,000 of the 22,000,000 workers covered by the law now are being paid less than 75 cents an hour. He estimated that the measure would boost the wage costs of employers by $865,000,000 annually.

The law applies to workers in interstate commerce businesses.

The present 40-cent minimum was provided for when the Fair Labor Standards act was written in 1938. For an employee working a 40-hour week, it meant a wage floor of $16 a week. A 75-cent minimum would raise this to $30 a week.

George Berbatis Was Stabbed

George Berbatis, operator of the Coney Island restaurant, 110 South Ohio avenue, was stabbed in the doorway of his place of business at 11:35 o'clock this morning by a man he described as being Charles Hall, 231 East Boonville.

Berbatis was stabbed between the ribs on the left side, and said his doctor told him the knife went in his flesh about an inch. He said he did not know whether he would appear against Hall, who is temporary being held in the city jail.

Berbatis denied any fighting, but claimed Hall all of a sudden came up with a long bladed knife and stabbed him.

Hall left the Bothwell hospital this morning after being treated for a burn wound on his left hip, received earlier as a result of smoking in bed.

Minister Amazed By Calls on Liquor

OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 1.—(AP)—Baptist Minister Thomas R. Byford is a patient man, even when he is continually mistaken for a bootlegger.

It seems that customers of Harold Byford, convicted Oklahoma City bootlegger, mistakenly call the minister when they get low on spirits in this constitutionally dry state.

Night and day, for months, the slightly tipsy have been phoning for delivery service.

unemployment problems."

Under the proposal, town and city councils would confer with industrial and civic leaders and pool their resources on a community plan. It is a key part of the Legion's 1950 domestic program.

The election of a new commander was the main item of business on the last day of the 4-day convention. Nominations were slated this morning with the vote probably this afternoon.

Four candidates, all World War II vets, were in the race for the $15,000-a-year job now held by Perry Brown of Beaumont, Tex. The Legion never before has been headed by a World War II veteran.

Other major resolutions approved by the convention today included:

1. Calling on the secretary of labor to act to restore the field staff of the veterans employment service to the former complement of 350.
2. Urged that the government give special citations to firms "outstanding in the employment of physically handicapped veterans."
3. Endorsed the veterans' pension bill before the Senate and commended House members who supported the measure.
4. Called for Congress to pass the Ellender-Boggs bill to declare picketing of U. S. courts a criminal offense.

Boo Opposing Bonus Now

The legionnaires howled down with a booming chorus of "Noes" a proposal by George Nicholas of Miami, Fla., that the Legion go on record as opposing a federal bonus for World War II veterans at this time.

The convention did not receive a formal resolution approving a federal bonus.

Houston "who then and there falsely and fraudulently represented unto Rice that the R. F. C. required his resignation before it would make Rice Farm Inc., certain loans, the falsity of which said representations so made by Houston, Rice did not then and there know, and this defendant further admits that on or about the 18th day of July, to become effective as of July 31, 1949, Rice did resign as vice-president and now denies that his resignation as vice-president was at the instance of the R. F. C., but on the contrary, affirmatively alleges that his resignation was brought about and procured as the result of false and fraudulent representations made to him by William C. Houston to the effect that the managing officers of R. F. C. demanded and required his resignation as vice-president which representations so made to Rice by Houston was then and there false and to him known to be false and made unto Rice as part of a scheme to displace Rice as one of the Rice Leghorn Farm Inc. officers."

Rice's attorneys are William F. Brown and Fred F. Wesner.

Knot Tighter Than Couple Intended

DALLAS, Sept. 1.—(AP)—City fireman Bill Wheelless and his bride, the former Miss Ruth Adams, tied the knot tighter than they intended.

Wheelless heard the boys intended to stage an old fashioned charivari. He borrowed handcuffs from a friend in the police department and snapped them on him self and his bride last night right after the ceremony.

The strategy worked fine until the wedding reception was almost over and the couple was ready to leave on their honeymoon. In the excitement Wheelless lost the key to the handcuffs.

The first honeymoon stop was at the police station to get the handcuffs unlocked.

"Believe me this is one tie that binds," said Mr. Wheelless.

Rebels Take Two Cities In Bolivia

Rightists Now Have Four Centers; Seek Ruin Of Government

LA PAZ, Bolivia, Sept. 1.—(AP)—The government announced last night the fall of two more cities to rightist rebels who earlier had been forced to surrender their stronghold at Cochabamba.

The government confirmed the rebels had taken Yacubiba, an important oil center on the Argentine frontier, and Sucre, 250 miles southeast of La Paz.

This made four important centers in the hands of forces led by the National Revolutionary party (MNR), which launched a revolt Saturday to overthrow Bolivia's middle of the road government.

The others are Santa Cruz in the eastern Bolivian oil fields and Potosi in the tin mining south.

Loyal forces which occupied Cochabamba today swept on from that city and attacked Santa Cruz and Potosi, a general staff announcement said tonight.

It was not clear immediately whether this meant new battles have started. Army officers estimated the full loyal force driving on Santa Cruz, about 150 miles east of Cochabamba, would reach there late tonight.

Confident Of Squelch
Despite the new setbacks, the general staff still appeared confident loyal forces would smash the five-day-old revolt.

All political parties except the MNR and the left Revolutionary party (PIR), which has stood aloof through, were reported planning a "democratic front" to back acting President Mamerto Urriolagoitia.

Army units which had been led over to the rebels at Cochabamba—Pineapple and Banana Center—150 miles southeast of La Paz—have now rejoined and swelled the loyal forces, the general staff said.

Army officers said there were only "confused" reports from Potosi, beyond a dispatch from Quiroga that he was sending a column there to attack.

The government flew doctors and medical supplies to Cochabamba today. But it gave no indication of the extent of casualties in the battle there yesterday and the "feeble resistance" it said Quiroga's occupation force met this morning.

Centennial Celebration Draws 50,000 Persons

POPULAR BLUFF, Mo., Sept. 1.—(AP)—An estimated 50,000 persons jammed Popular Bluff streets Wednesday to watch a 30-block long parade of floats—opening feature of the 4-day Butler county centennial celebration.

City officials called it the largest crowd ever to gather here.

Floats and bands were here from several North Arkansas and 15 southeast Missouri communities.

In float competition Dexter, Mo., was first Jackson, Mo., second; Paragould, Ark. third, and Portageville, Mo., fourth. There was no competition between bands.

Sedalla Boy Who Escaped Was Apprehended Wednesday

Joe Brandekamp, age 16, of Sedalla, was apprehended by the State Highway Patrol Wednesday afternoon.

He was one of three boys of his age who escaped Monday morning from the Missouri State Training School at Booneville. The other two boys are still at large.

NOW!

Is a Good Time to let People Know You Have Something to Sell.

Perhaps it is an old dresser or table that you no longer need... or maybe you have an extra stove you don't need, or a set of books you would like to get rid of. It might be something big, like a house, or lot, or farm. Or possibly a cow, horse, or flock of chickens. Or it could be that you need something and would like to buy it, but do not know where it can be found. Possibly it is an electric refrigerator, or a length of rubber hose... or a good used automobile tire or a bird dog.

A Democrat-Capital WANT AD Will Help You!

ALWAYS REMEMBER... Whatever it is you would like to sell, there is a buyer for it. And if there is something you want to buy, you can often find a person with the same thing to sell.

RED ARMY DESERTER RETURNS—Soviet Lt. Anatoly P. Barsov, 31, right, Russian Air Force deserter who spent seven months in the U. S., was returned to the Soviets at Vienna, Austria, at his own request, the mystery of his change of heart unexplained. Barsov fled from the Soviet Ukraine last October with Peter Pirigov, left, 28-year-old Soviet navigator, who, the State Department announced, is still in this country, happy and wants to remain. How to Play Canasta: 4 Score Canasta by Melding

BY WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY
America's Card Authority
Written for NEA Service

Scoring in Canasta is done in several steps. First, score all bonuses as per the following table:

Melding out	100 points
Melding out concealed	An additional 100 points
Each natural Canasta (no wild cards)	500 points
Each mixed Canasta (1 to 3 wild cards)	300 points
Each red trey	100 points
4 red treys for one partnership	800 points

A side cannot meld out unless it has at least one Canasta. This may be a natural or a mixed Canasta.

Red treys on the table do not count as melds. As a matter of fact, if your side fails to make a legal minimum meld before the other side goes out, the red treys of your side become a minus value.

When it is your turn to play, if you fail to remove a red trey from your hand and place it face up on the table, and the other side melds out and catches you with one or more red treys, your side is subject to a penalty of 500 points for each red trey.

Each joker	50 points
Each deuce and each ace	20 points
Each king, queen, jack, ten, nine	10 points
Each seven, six, five, four	5 points
Each black three	5 points

The total points left in the hands of the partner of the player who went out and of the opponents are a minus value for their respective sides.

Next, each side adds the value of all their cards that have been melded on the table. These cards are a plus value for the respective sides.

PREVIOUS SCORE TOWARD GAME	MINIMUM POINTS
Minus	15
0 to 1495	50
1500 to 2995	90
3000 or more	120

For the purpose of making an initial meld, the values of the cards are added together. A meld of three nines would be 30; two nines and a deuce would be 40; two nines and a joker would be 70.

For the purpose of getting the required minimum count for your initial meld, you may make two or more different melds at the same time. For example, if you need 90 points, you could put down a joker and two sevens, which counts (50-5-5) 60 points, and three eight-spots, which counts (10-10-10) 30 points, giving you a total for both melds of 90.

After a side has made its initial legal meld, either partner may add to their melds or make any other legal meld without reference to any minimum count.

Mother Beware! Baby May Have The Scissors
BERKELEY, Calif., Sept. 1.—(AP)—Mrs. Bernice Clark saw her 3-year-old son, Rusty, playing with forbidden scissors. She grabbed him up and spread him across her knee for a spanking. Down came her hand. And, simultaneously, little Rusty threw his hand back to protect his exposed rear.

Mrs. Clark went to a hospital to have five stitches taken in her hand. She had forgotten to take the scissors from the boy.

Navy Objects To A Photograph In Cafe

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1.—(AP)—A high-level aerial photograph of the Washington area, plainly showing all military installations and with-held from general publication was found on the walls of a downtown night club and restaurant.

George Bomze, proprietor of the "400" restaurant near the treasury, said the picture was found in the cafe three weeks ago. It apparently had been left by some Navy man.

Liking the scene, Bomze said he had it enlarged and mounted prominently in his display of photo-murals of points of interest around the capitol.

It attracted attention at once. Two admirals laughed heartily when they spotted it, Bomze told a reporter, but other Navy officials demanded its removal.

The Navy consistently has refused to permit publication of the picture.

Merle Oberon Sees Death Of Italian Count

Plane Crashed While Circling To Wave Goodbye

CANNES, France, Sept. 1.—(AP)—Italian Count Giorgio Cini was killed Wednesday as his private plane crashed in circling back low after a takeoff so he could wave goodbye to actress Merle Oberon.

The movie star, who had seen him off on a flight to Venice, witnessed the crash and shouted. When revived she said: "My life is finished. There's no point in going on."

The 31-year-old count was president of a company owning hotels in Italy, including the Lillo in Venice and the Excelsior in Rome.

Killed with him in his twin-engine Cessna was his pilot, Giorgio Giardello, 26, who was buried in the plane. Count Cini's body was thrown some distance away.

Had Been Companions
Miss Oberon, former wife of British movie producer Sir Alexander Korda, had been a guest at the count's castle in northern Italy and they have been together here on the French Riviera.

The fearful actress was taken back to her hotel on the Cap d'Antibes by the hotel director who had accompanied her and Count Cini to the Cannes-St. Caspian airport.

She said she had tried to persuade Cini to go by train because she felt something might happen if he went by plane today.

Wing Hit Ground
The plane flew off some distance from the airfield, then circled back toward where she was standing. One wing grounded and the plane scraped along 250 yards before bursting into flames. Cini had told her he would fly back for a last wave.

Andre Stella, owner of the hotel where she has been staying, said the actress was in a state of complete collapse tonight in her apartment and had a doctor in attendance.

Guardsmen Are Removed By Air

FT. LEONARD WOOD, Mo., Sept. 1.—(AP)—Six National guardsmen, one of whom was injured by a mortar shell explosion Monday, were evacuated by air from here Wednesday. None was in a serious condition.

The men were flown to military hospitals at Ft. Leavenworth, Kas., and Scott Field, Ill. Two were litter patients and the others rode as passengers in the light 1-5A planes, designed primarily for stretcher evacuation of troops in the field.

The shift was made to take the men closer to their homes and enable them to receive full pay while convalescing if the period should extend beyond the two weeks of the National Guard encampment which ends Sunday.

Patients included Cpl. Wendell O. Beans of Company A, 138th Infantry, St. Louis, to Scott Field; RCT Eugene Forrester, Company A, 138th Infantry, St. Louis, to Leavenworth; Cpl. Jimmy E. Schaar, headquarters company, 140th Infantry Cape Girardeau, Mo., to Scott Field, and Sgt. Daniel J. Callahan, company G, 138th Infantry, St. Louis to Scott Field.

Cpl. Beans was injured by the mortar shell. The others were ill.

Toppers Topped 13-7 By Columbia

Walz Drives In
All Sedalia Runs
With Three Homers

The Sedalia Toppers dropped a girls' softball game to the Columbia All-Stars, 16 to 7, Wednesday evening at Liberty park. The Sedalia aggregation was outclassed in fielding by the visitors, who had defeated the Toppers once before this year by a 7 to 5 margin.

Columbia scored one run in the first inning, but the Toppers bounced back for two in their half of the frame. Another run by Columbia in the third was countered with three Sedalia tallies in that inning, but in the fourth frame Columbia racked up six runs that were enough to give them "easy sailing" through the rest of the game.

Walz was on the hill for the Toppers, allowing 17 hits to the Columbia squad. Many of the hits, however, were attributed to some under-par fielding by the Toppers. Sole caught for Sedalia.

Turner pitched for Columbia, allowing eight hits and walking one batter. That was the only pass of the game.

Walz Stars In Hitting

Walz led the hitting and scoring for Sedalia with three home runs that drove in all the Sedalia runs. No other team member collected more than one base blow. Valentine, Reid, and Thornton each collected three hits for the visiting aggregation, and Valentine, Reid and McKinsey scored three runs apiece.

The score by innings:
Columbia101 650 3-16
Sedalia 203 020 0-7
This was the last home game of the year for the Toppers.

Odom Has Top Qualifying Speed

CLEVELAND, Sept. 1 — (P) — Bald Bill Odom, who made his fame using the globe for a speed course, showed he isn't bad around the pylons of a closed course yesterday with an average of 405.5 miles an hour.

"Me!" Asked Odom, sitting shoeless on the wing of his little green converted warplane when someone handed him a slip of paper with his qualifying speed.

His speed around the 15-mile seven-leg course was the best among the first dozen open class qualifying flights for the National air races. Only the fastest ten of 24 entrants will start the Thompson trophy race Labor day.

The fastest 20 will be eligible for one of two other races on Saturday and Sunday. The three events carry a total of $55,000 in prizes.

Odom is flying a North American F-51 Mustang entered by Jacqueline Cochran, also a noted race pilot.

Odom holds the round-the-world record of just 73 hours and the distance non-stop record for light planes at nearly 5,000 miles.

Biggest surprise in the day's flying was the modest 370 miles an hour turned in by Flight Lieutenant James H. C. McArthur, Canadian air force pilot flying a Supermarine Spitfire.

Billie Robinson of Pacomia, Calif., set a new mark of 183.3 MPH in qualifying for the Good-year races for midget planes.

Yankee Catcher Hurt

Umpire Jim Hurley consoles Yankee catcher Charlie Silvera, on his knees and holding his hand to his head, after he was hit on the left side of the face by the bat of Les Moss, St. Louis Browns catcher, in the first inning of the Yankees-Browns game at St. Louis (August 30). Several stitches were used to close the gash. He did not return to the game and the Browns went on to win 6-2. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Injury-Riddled Yankees Acquire Some New Talent

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 31 — (P) — A ray of hope pierced the gloom surrounding the injury-riddled New York Yankees yesterday as they clung tenaciously to their lead in the American league.

Help is on the way. As an apparent first step in bolstering the club for the September stretch drive, the club has purchased Fenton Mole, first baseman, from the Newark farm team, with Mole due to report today.

It was expected that a first baseman would be the first man to be called up, inasmuch as recent developments left that position the weak spot on the team. Last Sunday Tommy Henrich, who had held down first base most of the season and was returned to the outfield when Johnny Mize was acquired, suffered his third injury of the season in crashing into a wall at Chicago, and probably is out for the year.

The same day Mize injured a shoulder, and although he is expected to be ready for action soon, he's still unavailable. Billy Johnson, third baseman, has been filling in at first base. Mole is expected to take over the job immediately.

The newcomer, a Californian, is a 195-pounder, standing six feet and one inch. In 1948 he connected for 22 home runs while playing for Portland, Ore.

Early this season, for Newark, Mole sizzled for a month, batting at a .422 clip over the stretch. Since resuming play after a June ankle injury he has hit .332 in 61 games. His overall Newark average is .267, with 15 home runs included.

Another bright spot in the day's outlook was the announcement that Catcher Charley Silvera, injured when accidentally struck with a bat in last night's game, would be able to resume work tonight or tomorrow.

Western Assn. Game Lasted Over 3 Hours

Pitchers were pretty busy people in Western Association games last night.

Jim Morris pitched St. Joseph to a 6-3 victory over Salina, notching his 17th victory of the season. He slammed out a bases-loaded triple in the eighth inning to headlight a five-run St. Joseph rally.

Hutchinson's Bill Goff turned in a three-hitter as the Elks won from Leavenworth 7-2. All three Leavenworth safeties were singles.

Muskogee pushed over an unearned run in the first inning at Topeka to win 1-0. Jim Price, the losing pitcher, had a five-hitter. Varo, the winner, gave up four hits. Both struck out eight batters.

Port Smith won from Joplin 11-8 in a three-hour 23-hit game. Tonight's schedule: Muskogee at Topeka, Port Smith at Joplin, Salina at St. Joseph and Leavenworth at Hutchinson.

17-Year Old Leads the National Caddie Contest

Columbus, Ohio, Sept. 1 — (P) — The National Caddie Golf championship went on a man-to-man basis today — with 17-year-old Wesley Ellis, Jr., of San Antonio, Tex., as the man to stop.

Clifford Misamore, a 16-year-old Findlay, Ohio, club-toter, had the dubious honor of being the first to try to stop the torrid Texan who yesterday won the 36-hole medal honors with a par 144, topped off by a 34-35—69 in the windswept afternoon. Misamore was 18 strokes back with 162.

Ellis, a pre-med sophomore at the University of Texas—and one of the flashiest-dressed entrants in the starting field of 82—had six birds in his 36-hole test, but his efforts were marred by a quartet of three-put greeds.

Baseball Roundup of Major League Games Wednesday

Big Seven Training in Full Swing

By Jack Hand
Associated Press Sports Writer

Disaster in St. Louis, following the shocking loss of Tommy Henrich, has rocked the league-leading New York Yankees back on their heels.

Two straight drubbings by the upstart Brownies while Boston was cooling off the surging Detroit Tigers, has cut the Yanks' lead to two games.

There is a chance that Henrich may be back in uniform within three weeks, but by that time the die may be cast. In the meantime the Yanks have brought up first baseman Fenton Mole from Newark.

Victims of Browns
New York ran into the Browns in their hottest sixth straight series victory.

Bumping Vic Raschi in a four-run first inning last night, the Browns soundly thumped the Yanks, 10-3. Although nicked for 12 hits, Ned Garver went all the way for his 10th win. The 22nd homers by Jack Graham and Dick Kokos were the big blows for the Browns. Four hits by Joe DiMaggio provided the only Yank spark.

Cleveland missed a chance to nick a game and a half off the Yank lead when they lost to Philadelphia, 2-1, in the second game of a twilight-night double-header after winning the opener, 7-6, on Jim Hegan's 14th inning homer.

Al Benton, the Detroit castoff, earned his third victory within six days. Benton held the A's without a run after replacing Gene Bearden in the sixth.

Homers by Doerr and Williams
Homers by Bobby Doerr and Ted Williams, each with a man on, lifted the Red Sox to a 7-4 win over the Tigers. Chuck Stobbs, who gave way to Tex Hughson in the seventh, grabbed victory No. 9 of his first full season at Hal Newhouse's expense.

Chicago shoved Washington a little deeper into the cellar with a 4-2 decision.

Rain washed out the National League pennant race for the day. Postponing both the St. Louis-Philadelphia and Brooklyn-Cincinnati games.

Eight home runs were hit, five by the New York Giants, as Leo Durocher's club thumped Pittsburgh, 12-5.

The Boston Braves tightened their grip on third place by edging the Chicago Cubs, 4-3, in 10 innings. Tommy Holmes' single over third base with two out in the tenth scored Sibby Sisti with the winning run. Elbie Fletcher added his bit to "Fletcher night" with a two-run homer in the seventh.

Second Round of Little World Series
OMAHA, Sept. 1 — (P) — Cincinnati and Oakland, Calif., will play tonight in the second round of the American Legion Junior Baseball World Series.

Last night, Oakland and last-blinded Wheeling, W. Va., 12-1. Cincinnati took a one-sided 16-1 win from Atlanta.

The losers will be matched in opener tonight. It will be the last game for one of the once-beaten teams in the double elimination tourney.

Pitched No-Hit, No-Run Game

By The Associated Press
Dick McCoy is going to get the Ponca City Dodgers in the K-O-M League playoffs if he has to do it by himself.

McCoy pitched no-hit no-run ball in the first game of a doubleheader last night to help the Dodgers to a 4-0 victory at Pittsburg. The contest was a seven-inning affair. The Dodgers also won the second, 9-7.

McCoy faced only 24 men last night, walking three of them. Double plays promptly erased two of the three.

The victory last night was the third McCoy has pitched in the last ten days and gives him a season mark of 10 won against nine lost. The three victories are the margin by which Ponca City holds fourth place over Chanute.

The first three places are still jammed tightly.

Turnesa Wins Two Matches

By Will Grimsley
ROCHESTER, N. Y., Sept. 1 — (P) — The 49th U. S. amateur golf championship stacks up as a battle between Willie Turnesa and a flock of "dark horses."

The defending titlist from Elmsford, N. Y., little bigger than a full-grown brassie, stood out like an ailing thumb today as the tournament swung into the fifth and quarter-final rounds.

The big question around Oak Hill's 8,900 wooded yards was: Who's going to beat Turnesa? It won't be Robert (Skeet) Riegel or Frank Stranahan.

Riegel and Stranahan, two of the hottest favorites, went out yesterday.

Jimmy McHale of Philadelphia provided the tournament's major upset when he ousted Riegel, the No. 1 favorite, 3 and 2. Riegel had put the skills under Stranahan in the featured third round joust, also 3 and 2.

Turnesa, masterful around the greens, gave par a whaling in disposing of two opponents early. He downed Sam Penecale of Elkins Park, Pa., 5 and 4, and then ousted Ray Billows, last year's runnerup at Memphis, 6 and 5.

Missouri has had three grid All-Americans in the last decade — quarterback Paul Christman, center Darold Jenkins and half-back Bob Steuber.

Tennis Match Moves Into its Fourth Day

Larsen and Match
Lead Americans in National Contest

By Austin Bealmear
FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Sept. 1 — (P) — Even if the heroes of America's recent Davis cup defense should depart from the amateur scene, this country is fortified with enough young tennis talent to insure its success in international competition for years to come.

That's the opinion of Alrick H. Man Jr., captain of the U. S. Davis cup forces, a steady customer at the national tennis championships here this week.

Davis Cup Hopefuls
High up on Man's list of future Davis Cup hopefuls are Tony Trabert of Cincinnati, Art Larsen of San Francisco, Vic Seixas of Philadelphia and Buddy Behrens of Fort Lauderdale, Fla. — all members of this year's Davis cup practice squad — Hugh Stewart of San Marino, Calif., Charles Devoe of Indianapolis, Sam Match of Los Angeles and Straight Clark of Pasadena, Calif.

Of that group, only Larsen and Match, both seeded, were still in the running for the national singles championships as the tournament moved into its fourth day. But all have given a good account of themselves, even in defeat.

Oldster of Group
Match, at 28 the oldest of the group, led Gianni Cucelli, the Italian champion, 6-0, 7-5, 4-1, when rain halted all second round play yesterday. Clark ran defending champion Pancho Gonzales ragged before bowing out, 6-4, 7-5, 7-5, just ahead of the rain.

Stewart, a 21-year-old husky from the University of Southern California, took the first set from Jaroslav Drobny, the self exiled Czech, before losing, 4-6, 6-4, 6-3, 6-2.

Behrens lost to Earl Cochell of San Francisco, 6-1, 6-3, 7-5, but somebody walked off with Bud's two favorite racquets and he played with strange weapons.

Feminine Division
Only one second round match remains to be played in the feminine division, where the seeded ranks still are intact. That, put over until today, pits Mrs. Pat Todd of La Jolla, Calif., against Barbara Wilkins of New Rochelle, New York.

Mrs. Margaret Osborne DuPont of Wilmington Del., the defending titlist, advanced to the third round yesterday, along with such seeded players as Shirley Fry of Akron, Ohio, and Gussie Moran of Santa Monica, Calif.

Loud wails from Ronnie Jellen (left), 8, and his brother, James, 6, protest the end of their runaway adventure at Chicago. The boys, who had been missing since Friday afternoon, were found a few blocks from their northwestern home by a policeman. The lads, who told their parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Jellen (extreme left and right), they ran away for an "adventure," said they subsisted on popcorn and soda pop purchased by redeeming empty soft drink bottles

Ionia Knocked
Knights Out
Of First Place

Sedalia Team
Meets Warsaw
Tonight at 7:30

Ionia defeated the Sedalia Knights of Columbus in the semifinals of the VFW tournament at Windsor Wednesday night in a closely contested game by a score of 5 to 4. This game could readily be classified as a heart breaker as far as the Sedalia aggregation is concerned.

Howard Hayes, hurling for Ionia, hit a home run with two on in the fourth inning to take the lead and managed to stave off the Knights' rallies in the latter innings.

The inability of the Knights hitting in the pinches proved to be responsible for losing the game, especially during the latter part of the hot contest.

Weller Led in Hitting
D. Weller of the Knights was the hitting star of the game, having four for four, followed by Ragar of Ionia with three for three and Charley Weller with a single and a triple.

The Knights jumped in the lead with two runs in the first on hits by C. Weller, D. Weller and Bergman. Ionia tied it up in the third and went ahead in the fourth.

The Sedalia team came within one of tying the score by making two in the fifth and had other scoring chances. The game ended with a strikeout with men on second and third base. Both Schwermer and Lyles pitched
